All Souls II – 2014

My brothers & sisters in the Lord!

Today we remember, in a special way, our beloved dead. The practice of keeping this special “memorial day for the dead” did not begin with Christianity. This commemoration was prevalent in pagan antiquity. But as early as the second century, Christians have commemorated the anniversary of the dead, most especially of the martyrs. St. Isadore of Seville encouraged the liturgical observance of a single day for the dead during the seventh century. The monks of Cluny actually set the date as November 2nd, the day following the Feast of All Saints. It wasn’t until the 14th century that that Rome accepted this practice. In the 15th century, the practice of offering three Masses on this day began in Spain and Pope Benedict the XV (not XVI) extended this privilege to the entire Church. The tone of today’s celebration is a paschal one because our Lord Jesus’ paschal mystery gives special meaning to the death of a faithful Christian.

Our belief in the resurrection of Jesus and our belief in our own resurrection should convince us to take life seriously. As Christians, death is not something that we face with fear and it is not a threat to existence. If we truly understand it as a necessary prelude to resurrection, then it will help us to determine how to live. We can then look at our own time in this world as a series of opportunities for believing, hoping, loving and growing. We must remember that each moment in our life is unique and will not be repeated.

Our destiny has been designed by God our Father, the same Father who raised Jesus from death. He wants us to join His Son in glory where we will live with more intensity than ever before and forever. Like the Feast of All Saints, which we celebrated yesterday, it is a feast of God’s Triumph. It is a celebration of the Victory of Jesus over death and the promise that we will, one day, enjoy the vision of God’s glory in the kingdom where hope is firm for all who love, and rest is sure for all who serve.

As we reflect on this day, we might be more conscious of the communion of saints as we pray for our beloved loved ones. Today’s feast gives us added dimension to our prayers for them, when we pray for them we experience this communion of help and of companionship. We can also be aware that we, too, are also making our way to fullness of life and happiness in Jesus. Life is the gift that He has won for us all.

The words from the solemn blessing for this day say it so very beautifully: on this day may the God of all consolation, “bless us with faith in the resurrection of His Son, and with the hope of rising to new life. To us who are alive, may He grant forgiveness, and to all who have died, a place of light and peace.”

Eternal rest grant unto them, O Lord, and let perpetual light shine upon them. May the souls of the faithful departed, through the mercy of God, rest in peace. Amen.

Peace,
Fr. Joe

BLESSED LUDOVICO OF CASORIA Priest of the Franciscan Friars Minor

Founder of the Franciscan Sisters of St. Elizabeth (1814 - 1885)

Blessed Ludovico of Casoria (Archangelo Palmentieri) was born on March 11, 1814, in Casoria, Italy.

He entered the Friars Minor in 1832, taking the name Ludovico. Shortly after his ordination, he was appointed to teach philosophy and mathematics to the young members of the Order at the Franciscan Friary of St. Peter in Naples.

In 1847 he had a mystical experience which he later described as a cleansing. He dedicated his life to the poor and the infirm, establishing a dispensary for the poor, schools for the African children, an institution for orphans, the deaf and the speechless, and other institutes for the blind and elderly. He once said, “The love of Christ wounded my heart.” This love prompted him to great acts of charity.

To help continue these works, he established the Brothers of Charity and the Sisters of St. Elizabeth.

Ludovico wrote a spiritual testament which described faith as “light in the darkness, help in sickness, blessing in tribulations, and paradise in the crucifixion, and life amid death.” He was beatified in 1993 by Pope John Paul II and will be canonized on November 23, 2014 in Vatican City by Pope Francis.

“St. Francis is the living image of Jesus Christ. It is necessary to imitate him in virtue, in poverty of spirit, in separating from the world and in the love for Jesus Christ.” Blessed Ludovico of Casoria

Prayer of Saint Ludovico of Casoria

God Our Father, You sent into the world Your Son our Lord Jesus Christ to reveal to us Your mercy toward the least and the suffering; and have made Blessed Ludovico of Casoria, a compassionate and fearless witness of the Gospel of Your love. Set us on fire, too, with Your love, so we can bring to our brothers and sisters the consoling news of your hope and your life. Amen.

If we have died with Christ,
we believe we shall also live with him.

people who are generous. Those that give freely and cheerfully do not do it to be rewarded. They do it to show their love for God and their neighbors. Yet, because of their generosity, they typically are given more than they gave away!
