14th Sunday in Ordinary Time B-2015

From the Pastor

My brothers and sisters in the Lord:

When you think about it, life in many ways is about searching for God but many of us go looking for Him in far off hills and obscure places. We easily forget the obvious that God moves in mysterious ways and is most likely to be present in our nearest and dearest of family and friends as well as neighbors. God is present in the ordinary bits and pieces of life and shows up more than we think. He is not apart from the world nor is He confined or controlled by religious ritual and language. We meet Him in every person, place and moment that comes our way. The trouble with us is that because we stand so close to one another, we only see the faults and take for granted the great gifts of goodness which all of us possess. We become a community of knocking others down, and moaners and groaners, once we allow ourselves to be blinded by jealousy and family prejudice. If we can put a bad word or interpretation on a neighbor's act of kindness we won't miss the opportunity to comment.

Today's gospel is asking us to say thank you and give honor and recognition to the prophets of God's goodness in our midst. Today is the day to say thank you to your spouse, a word of praise to the person who cooks a meal for you or does something special for you, a thank you to the bread winner of the family as well as the neighbor who chats with you over the garden fence and, most especially, to the friends who gave you time, support and attention, during illness or bereavement. Let us not take for granted the presence of God among us as evidenced in the goodness shown by family and friends.

Hard to believe that 4th of July is already behind us. Summer is here and vacation time for a little rest and relaxation. Please be safe in your travels and don't forget to spend time with the Lord.

A few updates on things happening in the parish. Please note that as of date, Fr. Mauro and I will be working together in ministering to the needs of our parish, we still have not been assigned a priest to take Fr. John's place. I ask you to keep us in prayer that we will have some news soon.

Also, in the next few weeks we will begin work on replacing the sky light of the church as well as replacing the front steps of the church. We thank you for your patience during this time; we are trying to work around the weddings which are scheduled during the month of July and August. Again, I wish to thank all in your generosity for the roof and step fund of the church, no offering is too big or small as it all adds up in the end.

Peace,
Fr. Joe

A Farewell Message from Fr. John Gordon...

I have been encouraged to share some reflections on my experience of life and ministry over these past eight years. I offer this as a prayer of thanksgiving to Jesus, our Great High Priest, in Whose service I am privileged to be called.

I came here to Holy Family in August 2007, on the Feast of the Assumption of Our Lady. The parish was already in the throes of preparing for the annual feast. To see so many of the people of the parish come together to serve the parish year after year is wonderful.

The first year in the parish was a time of looking and praying; seeing what is here, delighting in the way the Lord has led so many to serve Him, to worship, to be part of life here. It was only then that I was led to start the Thursday night Bible Study. No reflection of these past eight years could fail to acknowledge the wonderful experience of community and faith that was developed. I am so very glad that the Bible Study will continue, now under Josephine Russo's leadership. What a great way to come together and study the Word of the Lord.

While here, it has been my privilege to serve the various ministries that are part of the Sunday worship; the Ministers of Hospitality, the Lectors, the Extraordinary Ministers of Holy Communion. These brothers and sisters serve so ably and generously. It has been an honor to serve with them.

An important aspect of priestly ministry here is caring for the sick. How many home visits and communion calls, and being with people as they prepared to meet the Lord; it is always a privilege to be part of this aspect of people's lives. So many have gone home to the Lord; all very, very precious to Him.

As a priest, I have the joy of preparing people for the various sacraments; children for First Confession and First Holy Communion, parents for their baby's Baptism, young couples for the Sacrament of Matrimony. To be part of people's lives as they make these important steps animates the call to be a priest.

And the relationships, the friendships, the deep enduring bonds of love. How so many of these I treasure; how I hope to carry you even in a new assignment.

Lastly, a thank you to Fr. Joe and Fr. Mauro; their patience and friendship are a great encouragement.

Lord, I pray that You are honored here at Holy Family, that Your Name is held holy, that Your people grow in holiness. Thank You, dear Lord, for the consummate honor, joy, privilege to serve You and Your people here. May the Lord be with us always.

Peace,
Fr. John

*My grace is sufficient for you,
for power is made perfect in weakness.*

STEWARDSHIP OF TREASURE

"As the Lord spoke to me, the spirit entered me and set me on my feet, and I heard the one who was speaking say to me, 'Son of man, I am sending you...'"

(Ezekiel 2:2-3)

God asks each of us to do some special work for Him. He gives us the resources we need to do His work. However, do we listen to God when He calls? Do we get up on our feet and give our talent to do the work He asks of us? Remember, God doesn't call the equipped, he equips the called.

Laudato Si': On Care For Our Common Home - "Praise be to you, my Lord."

"LAUDATO SI', mi' Signore" – "Praise be to you, my Lord." These are the words that open Pope Francis' encyclical on ecology and care for God's creation. These words, quoting St. Francis of Assisi's beautiful canticle, remind us that our common home is like a sister with whom we share our life and a beautiful mother who opens her arms to embrace us.

Pope Francis addresses Laudato Si' to "every person on the planet," for we all share a common home — the earth. He focuses on a number of important themes.

- ❖ A Moral and Spiritual Challenge. The ecological crisis, Pope Francis writes, is a summons to profound interior conversion — to renew our relationships with God, one another, and the created world.
- ❖ Care for God's Creation. God created the world and entrusted it to us as a gift. Now we have the responsibility to care for and protect it and all people, who are part of creation. Protecting human dignity is strongly linked to care for creation.
- ❖ We are All Connected. We are connected to the rest of the human family, to the created world, and to those who will come after us in future generations.
- ❖ Impact on the Poor. People in poverty have contributed least to climate change, yet they are disproportionately impacted by it. As a result of excessive use of natural resource by wealthy nations, those who are poor experience pollution, lack of access to clean water, hunger, and more.
- ❖ Called to Solidarity. We are one human family and have a shared responsibility for others and for creation. Wealthy countries have a responsibility to reduce consumption of non-renewal resources and should help poorer nations develop in sustainable ways.
- ❖ Technological and economic development must serve human beings and enhance human dignity, instead of creating an economy of exclusion, so that all people have access to what is needed for authentic human development.
- ❖ Supporting Life, Protecting Creation. Concern for nature is incompatible with failure to protect vulnerable human beings, such as unborn children, people with disabilities, or victims of human trafficking.
- ❖ A Time to Act. Pope Francis calls for a change in lifestyle and consumption. We can make important changes as individuals, families, and communities, and as civil and political leaders.
- ❖ Hope and Joy. "Injustice is not invincible" (no. 74) and we act knowing that we seek to live out God's vision of renewed relationships with God, ourselves, one another, and creation.

How You Can Respond

Each of us are called to take concrete steps – from reducing consumption to working for political change – to better care for creation.

Here are some ideas.

- ❖ Become more aware of our connectedness. Care for one another and creation includes understanding that "everything is connected" (no. 91) and that the economy, politics, community involvement, and technology all affect the future of the planet and humankind. How can we become more aware of our connectedness?
- ❖ Changes to lifestyle and consumption habits can make a big difference. For example, get a re-usable water bottle, take shorter showers, walk, bike or take public transportation instead of driving, recycle, compost food waste, and buy energy efficient appliances.
- ❖ Make changes institutionally at your parish, school, or workplace. For example, start recycling and composting, use washable dinnerware in cafeterias, share electronically instead of printing, do an energy audit, and install solar panels.
- ❖ Support local efforts to solve environmental problems. Community groups around the country are working to make city, county, and state-wide changes that can make a big difference. Find out what is going on locally and get involved.
- ❖ Contact your members of Congress to share Pope Francis' message and urge action to address climate change. Sign up for action alerts with the U.S. Conference of Catholic Bishops at <http://cqcengage.com/catholicbishops/jphd>

Prayer

Triune Lord, wondrous community of infinite love, teach us to contemplate you in the beauty of the universe, for all things speak of you. Awaken our praise and thankfulness for every being that you have made. Give us the grace to feel profoundly joined to everything that is.

God of love, show us our place in this world as channels of your love for all the creatures of this earth, for not one of them is forgotten in your sight. Enlighten those who possess power and money that they may avoid the sin of indifference, that they may love the common good, advance the weak, and care for this world in which we live. The poor and the earth are crying out. O Lord, seize us with your power and light, help us to protect all life, to prepare for a better future, for the coming of your Kingdom of justice, peace, love and beauty.

Praise be to you!

Amen.
